Redfern Corsets Insure Easy Graceful Lines of the Figure

The wearer of a REDFERN CORSET is assured elegance of figure lines, ease and poise. These are due to the pliability of the boning, which is the secret of the grace of REDFERN CORSETS.

These Corsets are distinguished by lightness, suppleness, fineness of fabrics and perfection of shaping, all of which mean beauty of figure, and comfort as well as grace in every movement of the wearer.

REDFERN CORSETS

are natural-figure Corsets. Some are topless, boneless models in curved-front styles that portray the beautiful lines of nature—Dancing Corsets, they might be called. Others are more heavily boned for women who like their figure firmly supported. They are made of soft, beautiful materials, either coutil or batiste, plain or prettily flowered. All are daintily trimmed.

Every type of figure, from the youthful to the most matronly, can be fitted satisfactorily with a Redfern Corset.

YOUNG MOTHER IS SMALLPOX VICTIM

Woman With Infant One Week Old Suffering With Virulent Type of Disease.

With an infant one week old lying by her side, Sallie Lamb, colored, twenty years old, was found yesterday by Dr. Frank M. Baum, in a room at the City Hospital, suffering with smallpox in its most virulent form. Should her condition permit, the woman will be removed to the isolation hospital to-day, and the baby, which has been vaccinated by Dr. R. E. Somers, medical inspector, will be taken with her, as it would be injurious to separate them.

"The woman, it is believed, contracted the disease about two weeks ago, and the eruption appeared on Tuesday, although she claims that it only developed on Saturday. From her appearance, however, Dr. E. C. Levy, Chief Health Officer, thinks that the case is in an advanced stage. She has been working as a domestic but it is not thought that she could have spread the contagion.

Dr. Levy investigated the case, and is sure that it is linked with a number of others that have been found in the negro section of the city. He is convinced that other persons are going around with the disease in a mild form, and that they are not recognized, but are spreading it generally. Practically all of the cases found this year are persons who have never been vaccinated.

There are now twelve cases at the City Hospital, although a larger number of patients have been received there during the past two months. The facilities are such that patients receive much more efficient treatment in the hospital than they would at home. For this reason, the lame woman will be taken there, if possible.

ANOTHER CRUSADE ON AUTO SPEEDERS

Police Get Orders to Arrest All Drivers Who Exceed the Limit.

Another crusade against automobile speeders has been started by the police, and from this time on the offenders will not be merely cautioned when they are traveling only a few miles above the limit, but will be arrested and brought to court. For some time only flagrant violators have been arrested, but Chief of Police Werner has issued orders to promptly arrest all persons caught driving faster than allowed by law.

This order has been the result of many complaints from citizens living on thoroughfares. In the West End, where motorists are continually caught "burning the wheel," the most of these complaints have come from residents in Grove Avenue, and the police will pay close attention to that thoroughfare. "We have orders to break up speeding in the city," said Motorist Police Officer Samuel last night.

Yesterday, a young chauffeur, arrested T. L. White, a young chauffeur, who was caught exceeding the limit on Grove Avenue. He was bailed for his appearance this morning in Police Court.

On Saturday afternoon the negro chauffeur of an automobile truck was caught by Samuels. He was also caught on Grove Avenue.

OPPOSED TO LEASE

President Homer to Explain Offer to Lease City Gas Works.

A special meeting of the Committee on Public Buildings, Utilities, Properties and Ordinances, held on Thursday or Friday night to consider the offer of the Southern Gas and Electric Corporation to lease the City Gas Works. President Homer, of the corporation, will be present at the meeting, and will be heard on the matter.

Several members of the committee have already stated that they are opposed to the lease, especially in view of the fact that the gas works are a source of revenue to the city.

Sermon by Delegate Philpott.

Rev. T. B. Philpott, member of the House from Henry County, preached last night in the hall of the House of Delegates before a large audience. In the House, Delegates Kiser and Housh were a number of members of the House. Delegates Kiser and Housh had charge of the music, which was limited to familiar hymns in which Mr. Philpott described himself as a member of the "primitive" or "hard shell" Baptist denomination, and his sermon was an able exposition of some of the doctrines of that faith.

ARREST BARBERS FOR SUNDAY WORK

Hotel Proprietors Included on Charge of Permitting Law's Violation.

Proprietors of three hotel barber shops, the Jefferson, the Richmond and Rueger's, owner of a private shop and three barbers were arrested yesterday on the charge of keeping open and doing business on Sunday.

C. F. Weisker, manager of the Jefferson, was arrested by Motorist Police Officer Samuels on a warrant sworn out by A. C. Runge and Frank Reahm, barbers, charging him with allowing his employees to labor on Sunday in the hotel barber shop.

Newman, who runs a shop at 204 North Sixth Street, was arrested by Bicycle Police Officer Tiller, on the same charge.

George Linn, proprietor of the shops at the Richmond and Rueger's, was arrested on two warrants sworn out by S. H. Brooks, proprietor of the First National Bank Building barber shop.

Brooks was asked last night the reason for his action. He said that these shops were being operated in violation of the law, and that it was a movement which was backed by the Journeymen Barbers' Union.

F. Iannizzi, James Flayna and Michael Valentine were arrested by Police Officer Therman and Manley, on the charge of working at their shops on the Sabbath in the barber shop at 316 West Cary Street.

All of the men taken in custody were promptly bailed by Magistrate Purdie, before whom the warrants were sworn out, and they will be given a hearing this morning in Police Court. In convictions in cases of this character, Justice Crutchfield's customary fine is $5.

NEW FOREMAN HERE

Southern Railway Company Transfers South Carolina to South Richmond.

J. J. Robinson, formerly of Greenville, S. C., has been made general foreman of the Southern Railway shops in South Richmond, and has taken over his duties. He has been in the employ of the company for a number of years in his home town and in Spencer, N. C., and was second in command at the local plant under William H. Owens, master mechanic. Mr. Robinson is married and will bring his family to this city.

Chief of Police Werner, of South Richmond, has been made roundhouse foreman of the South Richmond yards of the Southern Railway.

Charge Negro With Shooting.

Charged with shooting a companion through the arm and leg during a crap game, John Jones, colored, was arrested yesterday by Officer R. A. Tiller, of Henrico County, and will be arraigned before Magistrate J. Purdie this morning. The shooting occurred on the Seaboard Air Line Railway tracks, just beyond the corporate limits.

CHURCHES LAUNCH CANVASS OF CITY

Every-Member Campaign Started With Idea of Increasing Missionary Contributors.

Fourteen churches launched the every-member canvass yesterday, and for the next three weeks the campaign for systematic contributions for missionary work will be in progress. The movement is interdenominational, and the fourteen churches represent practically all of the Protestant faith. They will conduct the campaign this week, and on Sunday next another relay will begin. Four relays, embracing nearly fifty churches, have been arranged by the churches, appointed by the Laymen's Missionary Movement to inaugurate the campaign.

The every-member canvass of the entire church membership is made in order to secure some systematic contribution from every one. It has been revealed by investigation that only 3 per cent of the church membership contributed to missions, and that nothing is so effective in multiplying the number of givers as the organized personal canvass of the church members. The following results:

It answers personal questions and the objection of members; compels a consideration by each member of his personal missionary responsibility; gives the missionary cause in the mind of all; vastly increases the number of systematic contributors to missions; supplements the public invitation and appeal; discovers and develops many new workers; promotes acquaintance of canvassers with the congregation; and is a valuable spiritual inspiration to canvassers and congregation.

The canvassers are working in pairs, and each couple has a part of the congregation to visit. They are called out in pairs, and the workers are expected to continue until all on their list have been visited. The canvassing will be held on Saturday at 5 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, under the auspices of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of Virginia.

F. W. SMALLMAN DEAD

Well-Known Insurance Man Stricken With Acute Pneumonia.

Frederick W. Smallman, a well-known insurance man and general agent of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, died at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Westbrook Sanatorium of acute pneumonia. He has been in poor health for some time, and failed rapidly after being stricken on Saturday morning. Mrs. Smallman was at the bedside.

Mr. Smallman was born in 1873 in Middleville, Ga., the son of John M. D. Smallman. He was married in 1901 to Miss Rhodie Caldwell, of Chattanooga, Tenn., the daughter of J. A. Caldwell, a prominent lawyer of that city. He was city clerk in Chattanooga, and later in Seattle, Wash. For the past two or three years he had been the representative of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company.

He is survived by his wife, father and two brothers, Mr. Caldwell, Mrs. Smallman's father, and a brother, Mr. Smallman, living in Mc Minnville, Oreg. He was buried in the city cemetery yesterday. The body will probably be taken to Chattanooga for burial.

ALLEGED BURGLAR CAUGHT BY POLICE

Man Wanted in New Haven Shows Fight, but Calms Down When Krenzel Draws Gun.

Christopher Donnaumora, thirty-five years old, was arrested last night at the home of his mother, 407 North Second Street, by Detective-Sergeant Krenzel and Bicycle Police Officer Hanson and locked up at the Second Police Station as a fugitive from justice in New Haven, Conn., where he is said to be wanted for burglary.

Donnaumora was in bed when the officers went to the house. When Krenzel started to enter the room, his mother screamed and attempted to stop him, declaring that her son was asleep, and could not be disturbed. Krenzel forced his way by her, and found Donnaumora under the bed clothing. As soon as he was told that he was under arrest, he began swearing, and threatened to "show up the place." Krenzel promptly drew his gun, and told him if there was any shooting to be done, he would do it himself, and could not be disturbed. But he was still in an ugly humor when he was lodged in the station.

The police have been looking for Donnaumora since February 10, when Chief of Police Werner received a letter from the New Haven authorities, stating that it was thought that he was in Richmond. Krenzel kept a close watch on the mother's home, but Donnaumora kept well under cover, and not until last night did the detective see him go in the house. He summoned Tomlinson, and the two went in after him.

According to police records, Donnaumora was convicted of burglary in New Haven in 1908. He made a good record after the crime, now charged against him, was committed. He was traced to Pennsylvania, from there to Ohio, back to Maryland, then to Chicago, and from the latter city he came to Richmond.

The New Haven police were at once notified that the man was under arrest, and it is expected that an officer will come for him this week.

TO PASS ON CLAIM FOR FREE WATER

Council Committee Will Take Up Y. M. C. A. Petition To-Morrow Night.

Applications for free water will come up to-morrow night at the meeting of the Committee on Public Buildings, Properties and Utilities. The committee received several requests for free water at the public buildings, but action was postponed so that the members of the committee could get more information as to the reasons of the applicants.

Chief among the applicants is the Y. M. C. A., whose request, referred by the Council to the Administrative Board, was approved and then forwarded to the Public Buildings Committee. Before giving its approval the Administrative Board asked Secretary S. K. McKee to report upon the revenues derived by the association from room rent and the dining hall. The dining hall had been abandoned. On rental Mr. McKee stated that the association derived $5, 110 and $12, according to the position of the rooms. It is said that he failed to make a complete return, for it is stated that some rooms rent for $15 a month and others for as high as $20 per month. Mr. McKee, however, he occupied by two persons. The committee will probably ask for a more detailed report from Secretary McKee.

The committee will go out on Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock to the Clarke Springs property, which the Hollywood Cemetery Association wants to buy from at 7:30 o'clock to-morrow night. The property is also needed by the Riverside Cemetery, and the West End Citizens' Association has petitioned that the property, or part of it, be converted into a public playground.

Hollywood Cemetery is nearly filled, the committee was informed, and it can be extended only by way of the Clarke Springs property. R. C. Wherry, president of the cemetery association, based his petition for the sale to his association chiefly on the ground of the historic interest and significance of the property. But several members of the committee pointed out that the historic interest of the famous resting place of Virginia's dead would be preserved whether the cemetery association bought the Clarke Springs property or not.

Joint Session of City Council.

A joint session of the City Council will be held at 7:30 o'clock to-morrow night to fill the vacancies which will occur on the school board on April 3. Those whose terms will expire on that date are W. P. Hays, of the First District; President F. C. Ebel, of the Second District; and Walker C. Cottrell, of the Third District. All are standing for re-election.

Used Bottle for Weapon.

Junius Brown, colored, was arrested yesterday by Police-Sergeant Shearer and Patsman Tinsley, on the charge of assaulting Lizzie Monroe with a bottle. He was locked up at the Second Police Station.

Chesterfield Supervisors to Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chesterfield Board of Supervisors will be held this morning at Chesterfield Courthouse for the transaction of routine business. Among the important matters that may be considered by the board is the application of the South Richmond and Chesterfield Electric Railway Company for a franchise to build and operate a line from Swansboro to Falling Creek, a distance of three miles.

Arrested for Shooting.

Robert Fuller, colored, was arrested yesterday by Detective-Sergeant Krenzel on the charge of shooting Walter Bates, also colored, following a quarrel at the public buildings. The two men were taken to the City Hospital, and is now in the City Hospital.

Committee Meetings.

The Street Committee will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The sub-committee on Mayo's Bridge will meet at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and the committee on Public Buildings, Properties and Utilities will meet at 5 o'clock. The Board of Public Interests will meet on Wednesday night, and the Committee on Dock, River and Harbors will meet on Thursday night.

Salary Matter Goes to Board.

Question of Salary Increase Conference Excites Interest Around City Hall.

Members of the City Council are wondering whether the Board of Aldermen will concur to-morrow night with the lower branch in increasing the pay of a foreman of the Gas Department and its employees. In spite of the fact that it had delegated authority to increase salaries in the city departments to the Administrative Board, the Common Council at its meeting on Monday night voted to increase the salaries in the Gas Department on the ground that the city had been officially informed that Governor Hays had signed the charter change bill. As some of the better informed members knew, official notification was not a requirement of any of the acts of State authorities.

The charter bill carried an emergency clause, and when Governor Stuart signed it on Saturday a week ago it became a law. It is held, therefore, that the act of the Common Council in voting an increase in the salaries of the employees of the Gas Department is null and void.

A resolution to give the increase was sent to the Administrative Board on September 2 for the board's approval. It slumbered there until March 2, when it came before the Common Council with the board's approval.

Senators Ahead of House.

The Senate, which in past years has had the reputation of being a dilatory body, has made a record this session, and in point of procedure is far in advance of the House. The Senate has passed the game bill, passed a primary bill, and it has passed a fee bill, though the advocates of fee reform do not look with too much favor on its provisions.

The first order in the Senate to-day will be the House bill, providing for a tax commission of ten members—four from the House to be named by the Speaker, three from the Senate to be named by its president, and three at large to be named by the Governor—the committee will report alternate bills covering several systems of taxation for the consideration of a special session of the General Assembly.

The House has no special order, but it will make a vigorous attack on a routine bill on its calendar. One of the first to be reached will be House bill No. 39, to amend the revenue act so as to exempt physicians and dentists from payment of State license. A companion bill has passed the Senate, and is on the House calendar as Senate bill No. 70.

Exempt Physicians From Tax.

The bill as drawn is entitled "A bill to amend sections 117 and 118 of the revenue act." As amended it appears to be entirely a bill in reference to the State licenses of dentists, and it is stated that it passed the Senate under the impression that it imposed a license tax on dentists. As a matter of fact, the bill does not affect dentists, but leaves their license tax as heretofore, the section which heretofore read "no persons shall practice as a physician, surgeon or dentist, without a license." It being amended to read "no person shall practice as a dentist."

Delegate Love, of Lunenburg, will lead the fight on the bill. He said last night that the bill was not enough in that it exempted a class of citizens most able to pay, but that it was worse to attempt to slip through the General Assembly a bill like this of which does not indicate its purpose. He stated that there had been a persistent lobby in favor of this bill from the first of the session, and expressed the fear that many members had become pledged to its support before they fully understood its contents. The State received $40,410 from this source last year, a revenue which it is proposed to the bill as it passed the Senate to do away with entirely.

Doctors Will Speak.

Dr. J. S. Horsley and Dr. Tunstall Taylor, of Baltimore, will speak to-morrow night at 8:30 o'clock at a meeting of the Academy of Medicine and Surgery, which will be held in the hall of the Chamber of Commerce Building. Dr. Taylor will speak on the subject of "Bone Grafting and Tendon Transplantation." Dr. Horsley's subject will be "Suturing of Blood Vessels and Transfusion of Blood."

URGE ALL TO PAY

Bankers Want Depositors to Return Amounts for Taxation.

M. G. Field, of Orange, was elected chairman of Group 2, Virginia Bankers' Association, at a meeting held at the Jefferson Hotel on Saturday night. J. E. Snow, of Lawrenceville, elected vice-chairman and W. Pentek, of Richmond, was re-elected secretary. The address of the group is the territory from Madison to the North Carolina line and includes Richmond.

Resolutions were adopted expressing it as the sense of the meeting that every banker should urge depositors to return for taxation all money on deposit, the law passed by the present session of the General Assembly having reduced the tax to 20 cents on $100.

TABLET TO DR. HOGUE

Unveiled at Church of the Covenant—Address by Dr. Ceell.

A tablet to the memory of Rev. Moses D. Hogue, D. D., was unveiled yesterday afternoon in the Sunday school rooms of the Church of the Covenant, corner of Park Avenue and Harrison Street. The address was delivered by Rev. Russell Ceell, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, and the tablet was unveiled by a son of Dr. Hogue.

The Church of the Covenant was set apart many years ago as a colony from the Second Presbyterian Church, of which Dr. Hogue was for fifty-four years the pastor, and the new Sunday school rooms have been furnished and equipped by members of the Second Church in memory of Dr. Hogue.

Arrested for Disturbing Mission.

Charged with creating a disturbance in the Holiness Mission, 708 Hull Street, South Richmond, Levi D. Trego, of 729 1/2 Street, was arrested last night by Officer E. T. Tinsley, of the Third District. He was bailed for appearance before Justice Maurice this morning.

Partin Social Gently Enjoyed.

Many guests enjoyed the Partin social, which was given last night by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Hebrew Association at the organization's headquarters, 415 North Eighth Street. An elaborate program, which included recitations and piano and violin solos, was carried out.

TO ASK TRANSFER OF POLICE COURT

Southside People Would Like Money Spent on Criminals to Be Put to Better Use.

Resolutions asking for the abolition of the Police Court on the Southside will be offered on Friday night at the regular meeting of the South Richmond Democratic Club. This step will be taken because it is believed that such an institution is no longer needed on the Southside, and that the money now appropriated for its maintenance could be spent to much better advantage on the streets or other public improvements.

The court, known as Police Court, Part II, was created at the time of annexation, and has jurisdiction over crimes and misdemeanors committed on the south side of the James only. It is presided over by Justice Henry A. Maurice, former Mayor of Manchester, who was recently re-elected for a new term of four years by the City Council.

It is not proposed to wipe the court out of existence, but simply to remove it elsewhere. There are a number of prominent officials who now think that the consideration of the primary election and considerable time would be saved for witnesses and attorneys, who are now forced to wait through long and tedious trials in the City Hall.

There would be no loss to Justice Maurice by the transfer of the court, and it is not believed that the majority of the people of South Richmond desire a Police Court in the City Hall for the trial of cases arising on the Northside, would necessitate the keeping of two records, and would be a great inconvenience to the civic organizations of the Southside are unanimous in opposition to any tampering with this court.

Unless the House of Delegates can accomplish the impossible task of considering and passing upon more than sixty bills a day for the remaining six days of the term, it cannot hope to clear its calendar. This does not mean for bills that will come over from the Senate and take precedence over the House bills. Nor does it allow for the consideration of the primary election bill, the fee bill, the game bill, the co-ordinate college bill, the initiative and referendum resolution, the Land nuisance bill, the Adams bill for registration of land titles, the revision bill, the age of consent bill, the bill to elect corporation commissioners by the people, the redistricting bill, the workmen's compensation bill and many other measures of State interest which have not been discussed in any way on the floor of the House this session. Nor does it allow for consideration of the conference report on the appropriation bill nor for the probable disagreement of the Senate in the Confederate pension bill, in which many members of the House frankly admit that they want beyond the bounds of the financial ability of the Commonwealth.

Of the 615 bills reported by House committees during this session, 325 remain on the House calendar unconsidered. Of the bills passed by the House, 196, mainly of local character, are still pending on the Senate calendar.

While it is conceded that a great deal that is meritorious and that represents hard work on the part of the patrons and the committees, will die on the calendar at the end of the session, leaders of the House believe that there is a greater danger to the State in pell-mell legislation in the closing hours than there is in the failure to pass good bills.

The committee on Privileges and Elections will take up this afternoon at 3 o'clock the Willis resolution, which was offered by the delegate from Henrico as a result of the Myers-Christianson incident. The resolution names no names, but condemns certain methods of lobbying, and authorizes the Speaker to exclude from the hall and lobby such persons as he believes are making improper efforts to influence the votes of members.

Judge Martin Williams, chairman of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, said last night that he could not but believe that course his committee would pursue.

May Go to Subcommittee.

"The committee will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock," said Judge Williams, "to consider the Willis resolution, and other matters. It will be for the committee to determine whether it will make an investigation of the case, or whether it will make a report with the facts now before it. It is proposed to make any inquiry, I shall recommend that it be done by a subcommittee. With the limited time of the session, and with almost continuous sittings of the House, it will be necessary for such an investigation to proceed while the House is in session, and it will not be practicable for thirteen members to leave the floor while important bills are being voted on."

Speaker Cox has announced that the resolution will be heard hereafter, strictly enforced. During the consideration of important matters in the past week, it became customary to extend the time of well-informed speakers by unanimous consent of the House, the necessity of pressing the business forward, Mr. Cox will hereafter assert his position as a member of the House, and in point of procedure is far in advance of the House. The Senate has passed the game bill, passed a primary bill, and it has passed a fee bill, though the advocates of fee reform do not look with too much favor on its provisions.

The Board of Public Interests will meet on Wednesday night, and the Committee on Dock, River and Harbors will meet on Thursday night.

Salary Matter Goes to Board.

Question of Salary Increase Conference Excites Interest Around City Hall.

Members of the City Council are wondering whether the Board of Aldermen will concur to-morrow night with the lower branch in increasing the pay of a foreman of the Gas Department and its employees. In spite of the fact that it had delegated authority to increase salaries in the city departments to the Administrative Board, the Common Council at its meeting on Monday night voted to increase the salaries in the Gas Department on the ground that the city had been officially informed that Governor Hays had signed the charter change bill. As some of the better informed members knew, official notification was not a requirement of any of the acts of State authorities.

The charter bill carried an emergency clause, and when Governor Stuart signed it on Saturday a week ago it became a law. It is held, therefore, that the act of the Common Council in voting an increase in the salaries of the employees of the Gas Department is null and void.

A resolution to give the increase was sent to the Administrative Board on September 2 for the board's approval. It slumbered there until March 2, when it came before the Common Council with the board's approval.

Senators Ahead of House.

The Senate, which in past years has had the reputation of being a dilatory body, has made a record this session, and in point of procedure is far in advance of the House. The Senate has passed the game bill, passed a primary bill, and it has passed a fee bill, though the advocates of fee reform do not look with too much favor on its provisions.

The first order in the Senate to-day will be the House bill, providing for a tax commission of ten members—four from the House to be named by the Speaker, three from the Senate to be named by its president, and three at large to be named by the Governor—the committee will report alternate bills covering several systems of taxation for the consideration of a special session of the General Assembly.

The House has no special order, but it will make a vigorous attack on a routine bill on its calendar. One of the first to be reached will be House bill No. 39, to amend the revenue act so as to exempt physicians and dentists from payment of State license. A companion bill has passed the Senate, and is on the House calendar as Senate bill No. 70.

Exempt Physicians From Tax.

The bill as drawn is entitled "A bill to amend sections 117 and 118 of the revenue act." As amended it appears to be entirely a bill in reference to the State licenses of dentists, and it is stated that it passed the Senate under the impression that it imposed a license tax on dentists. As a matter of fact, the bill does not affect dentists, but leaves their license tax as heretofore, the section which heretofore read "no persons shall practice as a physician, surgeon or dentist, without a license." It being amended to read "no person shall practice as a dentist."

Delegate Love, of Lunenburg, will lead the fight on the bill. He said last night that the bill was not enough in that it exempted a class of citizens most able to pay, but that it was worse to attempt to slip through the General Assembly a bill like this of which does not indicate its purpose. He stated that there had been a persistent lobby in favor of this bill from the first of the session, and expressed the fear that many members had become pledged to its support before they fully understood its contents. The State received $40,410 from this source last year, a revenue which it is proposed to the bill as it passed the Senate to do away with entirely.

Doctors Will Speak.

Dr. J. S. Horsley and Dr. Tunstall Taylor, of Baltimore, will speak to-morrow night at 8:30 o'clock at a meeting of the Academy of Medicine and Surgery, which will be held in the hall of the Chamber of Commerce Building. Dr. Taylor will speak on the subject of "Bone Grafting and Tendon Transplantation." Dr. Horsley's subject will be "Suturing of Blood Vessels and Transfusion of Blood."

Bankers Want Depositors to Return Amounts for Taxation.

M. G. Field, of Orange, was elected chairman of Group 2, Virginia Bankers' Association, at a meeting held at the Jefferson Hotel on Saturday night. J. E. Snow, of Lawrenceville, elected vice-chairman and W. Pentek, of Richmond, was re-elected secretary. The address of the group is the territory from Madison to the North Carolina line and includes Richmond.

Resolutions were adopted expressing it as the sense of the meeting that every banker should urge depositors to return for taxation all money on deposit, the law passed by the present session of the General Assembly having reduced the tax to 20 cents on $100.
